ON THE IMPORTANT LESSONS LEARNT THROUGH THE AWARD PROCESS

The important lesson mirrors the one challenge I faced through the process, that is to pull resources together when we were already running at full capacity and managing multiple retailing projects at peak season.

I saw how my team was dedicated and went the extra mile to deliver what was needed for the Award submission. This shows my team has once again demonstrated great potential to strive and excel, and most importantly to give their all when called upon.

I truly value my people and their commendable spirits of commitment and strong bonds to unify strengths within a short period of time.

ADVICE TO YOUNG ENTREPRENEURS

Do not let opportunities pass you by.

Life is short, so lead a meaningful life and achieve something in your lifetime. I encourage young entrepreneurs to dare to dream and dream big because dreaming is free.

As entrepreneurs, we have to be very determined, consistent and focused.

Do not be discouraged by disappointments and failures because it may lead you one step closer to success.
