Up Close and Personal with David Low – Driving Growth through Innovation

Synopsis

Unlike some businesses which may resist technological innovation and change, David Low, Singapore's EY Entrepreneur Of The Year 2016 embraces the new advances for Futuristic Store Fixtures Pte Ltd (Futuristic) to stay ahead of the curve.

In 2005, David took on the role as CEO of Futuristic, which was then, in general contracting and interior outfitting. After several trips to United States to understand the research and development in store fixtures, David was convinced that the latter, a customizable store fixture solution was what could bring Futuristic to the global stage. He persuaded the stakeholders of Futuristic to end the general interior contracting business and to focus solely on manufacturing store fixtures. It was both a tough decision for the business but the rest was history.

Today, Futuristic has over 700,000 square feet of wood and metal joinery capabilities strategically located in China, Malaysia and North America with full-fledged manufacturing facilities to support global retail roll-out. Futuristic serves leading international retail brands including Victoria's Secret, Bath and Body Works and many others across 56 countries and has supplied to over 7,000 retail stores worldwide.

Join us and get up close and personal with David, before he heads off to Monaco to represent Singapore at 2017's EY World Entrepreneur Of The Year.

About BFI @ SMU

SMU established the Business Families Institute (BFI@SMU) in August 2012 in response to the growing needs of business families in Asia. Since 2010, SMU had recognised the emergence of Asian business families and discerned that they require specifically contextualised thought leadership and applied knowledge. With this in mind, BFI@SMU collaborates with various partners, academic or otherwise, to be a knowledge leader in Asian business family-related education, engagement and research. BFI@SMU encourages business families to Think Generations, Think Growth, Think Giving and Think Global, and in doing so, the Institute addresses business family-specific issues such as family, ownership, business succession and governance. The vision of BFI@SMU is to facilitate business families in Asia to develop, harness and leverage their family and financial capital across generations
